

Religious Exemption to the COVID-19 Vaccine

Last Name	First Name	Middle Initial
-----------	------------	----------------

NOTICE: An employee is exempted from the Washington State COVID-19 vaccination requirement when this completed form is submitted and approved by WildWise's Executive Director. An exempted employee must abide by WildWise health and safety measures for unvaccinated individuals. In the event of a COVID-19 outbreak on campus, an unvaccinated employee may be excluded from campus, including work for the duration of the outbreak.

Employee Religious Declaration and Acknowledgment of Risk

The required COVID-19 vaccines are in conflict with my truly and sincerely held religious beliefs.

I agree to comply with all mitigation, health and safety measures for unvaccinated individuals on campus and in teaching spaces as outlined by WildWise.

I understand that it is my responsibility to comply fully with these measures in order to maintain my own and others' health and safety. In the event of a COVID-19 case or outbreak on campus, I agree to comply with WildWise's quarantine or isolation procedures as recommended by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention and state and local health departments.

I understand that I may be excluded from in-person activity at WildWise for the duration of an outbreak and that this may result in leave from work, and absence from other activity at WildWise for the duration of the exposure risk. I may be taking part in campus and teaching space activities as an unvaccinated individual during the COVID-19 pandemic, and acknowledge the risk that I may contract this disease in the course of normal in-person activity at WildWise.

I will successfully complete any COVID-19 education material required by WildWise before beginning any in-person activity.

I declare that I am a member of a religious body or a church in which the religious beliefs or teachings of the church preclude receiving the COVID-19 vaccine.

The information on this form is complete and correct.
